REPORT 2025

Rural Voices, Real Impact

Message from the Chair, Tim Passmore

2025 was a year of progress for the National Rural Crime Network (NRCN). We strengthened partnerships, influenced national policy, and secured vital funding to support rural policing.

Despite these successes, challenges remain. Economic and political uncertainty means rural communities need a strong voice more than ever.

Our priorities include fairer funding for rural police forces, tackling serious and organised crime, and addressing rural vulnerability—ensuring issues like domestic abuse, stalking, and sexual abuse are taken seriously.

Mental health and wellbeing in rural areas are often overlooked. In 2026, NRCN will spotlight these issues and continue driving change to make rural communities safer.

Executive Summary

2025 marked a turning point for NRCN. Our mission to champion rural communities and tackle crime delivered tangible results—from securing government pledges to shaping national strategies. This report highlights key achievements and our vision for the future.
